Two Seniors Recipients Of Wilson Fellowships

Sir Hugh Taylor, president of the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation, this week announced that two Holy Cross seniors were recipients of Woodrow Wilson Fellowship Awards and four received honorable mention.

The two fellowship winners are Neil P. Coughlan and Robert H. Kane. Coughlan is an A.B. classics major from New York City, and Kane is an A.B. classics major from Maynard, Mass.

Seniors given honorable mention were Peter H. Baker, Philip J. Bergan, E. Dennis Taylor and Robert E. Wall.

The fellowship awards themselves carry a basic stipend of $1,500 plus family allowances and full costs of a year's graduate study at any university of the recipient's choice in the United States or Canada.

The winners number 1,259 students and come from 355 universities and colleges in the United States and Canada. There were 8,800 applicants representing 861 institutions. They will study in 83 different graduate schools.

This year there were 1,203 candidates for the fellowships who received the honorable mention recognition. A list of their names, fields of study and undergraduate schools will go to the deans of all graduate schools in the United States and Canada and to the Foundation's representatives on some 1,000 campuses. The fellowship committee anticipates that in this way most of them will be recipients of alternative awards either directly from universities or from other organizations.

The Woodrow Wilson Fellowship Program was established in 1945 to recruit promising students for the college teaching profession and to support them during their first year of graduate study.

Editor Announces Plans To Produce Anniversary Issue

On March 22, the CRUSADER will publish a historical issue to celebrate the 35th anniversary of the school paper.

This issue will contain exclusively the news, sports and feature events as treated by the CRUSADER and its predecessor, the TOMAHAWK, over the last thirty-five years.

According to James F. Keefer, '60, editor-in-chief of the CRUSADER, "The issue will not contain any current news and sports stories. It will not, however," he continued, "be an entirely historical paper because we will, of course, have to print current advertising due to contractual obligations."

Keefer mentioned the fact that the sports section should especially be of interest to the readers since Holy Cross has participated in three NIT tournaments and four NCAA tournaments, winning each tournament once. Also, the Cross played Miami University in the Orange Bowl in 1946. "Since we will be playing in the NIT this year," he said, "the

Glenn Miller's Orchestra Brings Fame To Prom

Chairman Bernard J. Cummins, '61, and co-chairman Martin F. Hogan, '61, of the Junior Prom Music Committee, this week revealed the identity of the Prom band as the world-famous Glen Miller Orchestra.

Playing in the Miller tradition, the 16-piece ensemble and vocalist, Miss Arlene Martel, will be under the direction of Ray McKinley. Prom-goers will hear the authentic Miller arrangements at the Saturday night dance in the Fieldhouse from 8 to 12 p.m.

The Miller-McKinley story starts in Chicago during the early '30's when both were side-men in the Dorsey Brothers' band. Because of his organizational and arranging ability, Miller, upon request, got together a band for Ray Noble. McKinley stayed on with Dorsey as a drummer.

With the dance band era coming on, Miller started his own orchestra in 1937. In the spring of 1939 the Miller brand of music caught on and for three and a half years stayed at the top of the heap. Miller entered the Army in October, 1942. McKinley, also in the Army, reunited with Miller in the service of entertaining millions of G.I.'s.

Miller lost his life in a flight over the English Channel in December, 1944.

Upon his discharge, McKinley answered his urge to lead a band by organizing one of his own. His success cut short by an intestinal sickness, he returned to his home, Fort Worth, to become a disc jockey. Shortly thereafter, he emerged a TV hit as a bandleader, drummer, singer and entertainer.

In the early '50's the Miller revival took shape, sparked by the highly successful movie of his career, "The Glenn Miller Story." The Miller estate and top agent Willard Alexander joined together to bring back Miller's music. Due to the issuance of the Glen Miller band album, with McKinley's drumming, they struck upon McKinley as the man for the job.

With their backing McKinley organized the Glen Miller Orchestra, using Miller's entire music library, to once again entertain people all over the world.

Student Congress Votes To Affiliate College With NSA

(cf. Editorial, p. 2)

The Student Congress voted Tuesday night to empower the president of their body to affiliate Holy Cross with the National Student Association.

The NSA is an organization of 400 American colleges and universities dedicated to "promoting student interests and rights." The motion passed 24-11.

A three-week debate preceded the voting, with the affirmative side advanced by the introducer of the motion, William J. Madden, '61. In part, the affirmative held that "Catholics are without sufficient influence in heading off the admittedly radical and often distasteful policies and mandates of the Association. Holy Cross can provide this leadership, and publicize the Catholic position."

Fr. Ryan Establishes John Colet Society To Create Teaching Profession Interests

John Colet, an English pre-Reformation priest and founder of St. Paul's Cathedral School in London, is the namesake of the new education society on campus. Colet, a humanist scholar and colleague of Desiderius Erasmus, Thomas Linacre and St. Thomas More, was the founder of the secondary school system in England.

Reverend J. Joseph Ryan, S.J., chairman of the education department and moderator of the club, stated that its purpose is to "engender an interest in secondary school teaching as a profession and provide an opportunity for Holy Cross students to learn more about it."

school's record in preceding tournaments should interest the students."

This will not be the first time that the College's newspaper has published an historical issue. On November 10, 1949, the TOMAHAWK printed a 24-page issue commemorating the twenty-fifth anniversary of the paper on campus.

This anniversary issue will be approximately twice the size of the regular weekly issue.

(Turn to Page Four)

Over a period of a school year, the John Colet Society plans to invite a maximum of six scholarly lecturers to the campus. These lectures will be conducted in much the same manner as the Alpha Sigma Nu talks. Some school administrators will be invited, but emphasis of selection will be directed to graduate school professors who are dedicated to training prospective secondary school instructors. Attendance at these lectures will be open to all those who manifest an interest in teaching, whether it be on the elementary, secondary or college level. They need not necessarily be education majors.

The first speaker for the society will be Dr. Leo T. Doherty, first superintendent of Worcester schools, who will lecture in Hanselman Lounge at 3:45 p.m. on Tuesday, March 22. Dr. Doherty is a graduate of Worcester State Teachers College, Massachusetts School of Art, Boston College School of Education and Harvard University. His topic will be "The Vocation of the Secondary School Instructor and the Variety of Opportunities Afforded Him."

The officers of the John Colet Society are Joseph A. Harrington, '60, president; John J. Horrigan, '60, and John F. Fox, '62, vice-presidents; Frederick S. Rushton, '60, and Thomas P. Dougherty, '63, secretaries; John P. Kulevich, '61, treasurer. The

St. Patrick's Day Crowd To Witness Cross Drill Team

Next Thursday, March 17, the NROTC Drill Team and Color Guard will represent Holy Cross in the annual St. Patrick's Day Parade in New York City. They will march before hundreds of thousands of spectators from 44th St. to 96th St., along green-striped Fifth Avenue.

This will be the third appearance for the Drill Team and Color Guard, commanded by Midn. 2/c Benjamin W. Greene, Jr., and Midn. 2/c Frank J. Malinski, respectively.

The faculty and student body of Holy Cross College wish to extend their deepest regrets to Gary M. Calkins, '63, on the death of his mother. We will remember her in our prayers.

Last Tuesday, the Holy Cross Student Congress voted 24 to 11 to affiliate the College with the National Student Association. In spite of incontrovertible proof that the Congress cannot pay $400 of student money to join the NSA, in spite of charges that the NSA is soft on Communists, in spite of deflation of the idealistic notion that Holy Cross will push the NSA into the path of righteousness, the Student Congress voted to join.

The NSA is a radical, left-wing group of college "representatives" whose principal purpose and duty is to attend a mammoth convention during the summer and exchange ideas about problems facing American Studenthood. Not content with harmless vocal solving of world problems, the NSA insists on publishing "mandates" which are the expressed wish of the majority of delegates of the 400 member colleges and universities attending the summer convention. These mandates are in no way binding on dissenting delegates, but they require the officers of the NSA to publicize and instruct the colleges of America on these decisions and suggest the implementation of them on all campuses. The mandates cover all areas, except partisan politics, from simple segregation issues, to letters of commendation to individuals. But in the case of more controversial issues, as when the NSA condemned the loyalty oath provisions of the National Defense Education Act, newspapers throughout the country print the resolution as representative of American students. No list of dissenting Colleges is included, and often the newspaper will print the names of the local member colleges.

Here is the problem: Holy Cross should not, however implicitly, join its name to mandates of definitely fellow-travelling sentiments as when the NSA says that the avidness of the House Committee on Un-American Activities to prosecute Communists is an abridgement of freedom. Holy Cross should not link its name with an organization that specifically condemns U. S. postal regulations that restrict the flood of Communist propaganda from overseas, or suggests that professors who refuse to answer questions about past Communist ties should not be censured, and mandates that professors should not take loyalty oaths.

Holy Cross should recoil from an organization that suggests the establishment of "allegedly subversive organizations" on campus in the interests of academic freedom.

All this was explained to the Congress in detail during the last meeting before the final vote. Yet 10% of the Congress was absent from the meeting. 15% of the voting members sent proxies with instructions on how to vote — and never heard the pro-Communist charges. This lack of discretion perhaps is one reason that the Congress voted so overwhelmingly in favor of joining.

The Congress voted by a two-thirds majority to join in face of an argument that almost made the debate superfluous. The Congress has no prospects of, and a perfect incapacity to raise the $400 that joining will require. This sum includes dues and travelling fees for the delegates lucky enough to take a trip to the convention next summer. This sum, which the Congress does not have, will represent one-sixth the total budget of the Congress. What the Congress has done, apparently on a "go-now, pay-later plan," is saddle the next Congress with a mandatory $400 debt that there are no prospects of paying without curtailing present Congress services or raising dues.

However, it is foolish to think that the Student Congress at Holy Cross is anxious to coddle Communists, or has such fiscal irresponsibility that they voted for the membership with no sound reasons. The reasons are these: the Catholic opinion is ineptly represented in the NSA. There is no effective voice to challenge the admitted radical tendencies of the present sentiments of the NSA. Holy Cross can provide this leadership and voice, because of the unique character of the Holy Cross student.

This argument is specious flag waving. Where 50 Catholic colleges have failed, even when two presidents of the NSA were from Catholic schools, Holy Cross, like a shining knight, will guide the NSA into the path of reflective mature reasoning, and reverse the Communist-coddling policies of the NSA. It is naive to think this way. Holy Cross' one vote and two voices will not sweep a convention from its consistent path, and into truth. This idealistic attitude is not enough to justify sanctioning of a fiscal impossibility, and certainly not enough to chance compromising Holy Cross.

Percent II, Suggests Radical Changes To Enliven Winter Carnival Weekend

by Dick Della Penna and Matt Sheridan

George M. Percent, II, '60, chairman of the Holy Cross Happiness Exchange, has announced the full schedule of events for the First Annual Holy Cross Winter Carnival which will interfere with the weekend of March 17-20.

The entire gala affair is being jointly sponsored by the Kimball Kitchen Salad Association, the D. O. Ladies Auxiliary, and Miss Imogen Louise Guiney. "It promises," states chairman Percent "to surpass the wildest hopes of the daily memoranda, the Byzantine Mural Committee, and the Student Congress Lounge Committee." Many changes will be needed before a true carnival spirit is attained on campus, as one might expect. Every change will be made with the spirit of making the Holy Cross of Pleasant Springs a bit less pleasant.

The traditional gold and black "Holy Cross College" sign that adorns the gates of lovely Lind Lane will be replaced by a 9' x 12' red neon sign that will flash "Welcome" at six-second intervals. Chairman Percent has personally completed arrangements for engaging 13 famous gypsy families who will play tory whistles which will be synchronized to signal with each flash. Fifteen gypsy families have been invited to picnic in the snow around the gate area. The Kingston Trio will take up its position on the O'Kane porch and will sing selected Al Jolson favorites. Upon request the trio will hand out autographed I HATE JACK buttons, courtesy of the YRUC. Permission has also been granted to raze Fenwick West and in its place will be erected a fully equipped Student Congress lounge.

Decorations chairman Horace Horace, '60, has promised to transform Dinand Library into an elaborate palace. General Chairman Percent cautions that this will be difficult but promises to do everything possible to achieve the palace effect. He and his Happiness Exchange have rented a 60-foot waterfall from the Times Square Corporation which will cascade from the Library roof. At hourly intervals the waters will part and a lovely mermaid from Worcester will shout "Welcome to Holy Cross Winter Carnival."

Letters To The Editor

Sir:

The extensively advertised Student Scholarship Fund Drive seemed to get a flat tire far short of its announced goal. Last year, at this time, this same drive swept past all previous records to gather $3,200. This year it seems, either paupers or non-Christians inhabit the campus.

The difference between the two drives amounts to some $600. And yet, WCHC spent 21 hours on the air in 1960 compared to only four last year. This is the difference between an hourly average of $120 and $800.

Such a drop indicates at least acute apathy. Although this is perhaps Holy Cross' most complained of fault, it seems necessary to add another incidence to the file.

There may be, however, causes for this apathy right in the College. A comparison of the statistics of charity of the Freshman and Senior classes demonstrates this. One senior corridor donated toward scholarships a total of $17. The largest senior gift was $60. The highest total in the school was from a freshman corridor: $220. Last year, the freshmen also contributed the most. I do not presume to know why freshmen appear more interested or generous than seniors; I do know, however, that the situation must be examined and corrected.

Sincerely,

B. J. Cummins, Jr., '61

Sneak Previews

Date: Friday, March 11.

Title: "Teacher's Pet."

Plot: Clark Gable plays a rough, tough newspaper editor who gets riled at the "Letters to the Editor" and rides off to some night school to investigate the hag who would dare criticize his traditional methods. Doris Day isn't a good hag, but she's a great journalism instructor and she and Clark find they have a lot in common: lead type.

Comment: The CRUSADER office should have such a professor.

Date: Saturday, March 12.

Title: "Return of the Fly."

Plot: Vincent Price returns as well in the sequel to a good horror picture that is pretty horrible the second time around. In the first installment, Daddy exchanged his head for a fly's (et vice-versa). Sonny repeats the experiment in the second installment, and meets much the same end. This will probably be the last flight of the fly because the special equipment is destroyed.

Comment: It shouldn't have both-ered.

Prom Chairmen Outline Queen Contest Method

by Jim Amrein

Donald J. O'Meara, '61, and Henry Sampers, '61, chairman and co-chairman, respectively, of the Junior Prom Queen's Committee, this week announced the selection procedure for the queen and her court.

Pictures of the candidates are to be submitted between March 14 and April 8 to either O'Meara in Bv. 211 or to Sampers in Cr. 228. An attached piece of paper containing the candidate's name, home and school address and her escort's name and class must accompany each picture to be eligible for consideration. All pictures are returnable.

Finalists selected from these pictures will be two junior dates, who are then eligible for the queenship, and two underclassmen dates who are, by their selection, members of the court. The art department of the Chicago office of the J. Walter Thompson Co., advertising agency, will make the picture selections.

Three other queen contestants will emerge from selections made at the juniors' Friday night dance at Lake-side Ballroom.

The selection of the queen from the five contestants will take place at a reception Saturday afternoon at the Hotel Bancroft. Five judges will render the final decision.

WCHC To Feature 'Faust' and 'Aida' In Opera Series

Radio station WCHC inaugurated a new series of full-length opera presentations last Sunday with the Bizet opera, "Carmen." Peter V. Fazio, '61, station manager, announced that an opera will be presented every Sunday at 12:45 p.m. Sufficient time will be allotted to allow the opera to be heard in its entirety. Any time remaining before 4:45 p.m. will be filled by the playing of recordings of incidental music.

Next Sunday, the usual "Sunday Showcase" will be on the air. The following week Gounod's "Faust" will be heard. In weeks to come, listeners may hear "Aida" by Giuseppe Verdi and Giacomo Puccini's "La Boheme." The program will continue according to student reaction.

J. Murphy Releases List Of Jurors; Lawyers Plan Elements Of Surprise

John F. Murphy, '60, chairman of the 1960 Mock Trial announced this week the names of those who will serve as jurors.

Donnelly, S.J., Chairman of the Philosophy Department; Miss Barbara Green, secretary to the Dean of Studies; Miss Rita Man-ion, assistant registrar; Miss Mary Jane Proulx, secretary to the Dean of Men; and Dr. Edward F. Callahan of the English Department.

Murphy also announced that James P. Fitzpatrick, '60, will serve as court clerk. Ralph W. Webster, III, '60, will be an additional witness for the prosecution.

Concerning the annual trial, which will take place on March 23 in Fenwick Auditorium, Murphy said, "Many innovations have been made in the method of presentation this year in order to make the trial more interesting and exciting for the audience in general. It promises to be the most sensational trial ever presented here at the College."

American Higher Education Challenges Catholic Scholars

"American higher education holds a great future for scholars of your background," stressed Dr. Daniel H. O'Leary in the second lecture of the 1960 Alpha Sigma Nu series held before a student-faculty assembly in Hanselman Lounge last Tuesday.

Dr. O'Leary advised students intent on graduate work in education to pursue their degree in high-calibre secular institutions. If even to secure our own "selfish advancement" and to obviate a "too-Catholic background," we should seek graduate work in a secular university.

Turning to the related problem of too-few Catholic graduate schools, Dr. O'Leary said Catholics need more than the ten graduate schools they presently have. He suggested either the foundation of new Catholic universities across the country or the expansion of present colleges to cover the graduate fields.

He admitted that "the strides Catholics have made in this generation have been heartening."

Council Picks Collins, Mullin To Produce, Direct Musical

C. Clark Hodgson, Jr., '61, president of the Junior Class, announced this week that James X. Mullen and Kevin J. Collins have been chosen as director and producer, respectively, of the 1961 Senior Musical.

Mullen is a B.S. biology major from Clinton, Mass. He is a member of the art staff of the Purple and the program and publicity committees of the Junior Prom. He attended St. John's Prep in Worcester. Collins, a graduate of St. Peter's Prep, is an A.B. history major from North Bergen, N. J. He is a member of the AFROTC, the Sodality, and editor of the faculty section of the 1961 Purple Patcher.

The method of selection was through the interview system. Mullen was chosen two weeks ago from a wide field of applicants. The choice was made according to ability, experience and interest. The director is responsible for all on-stage activities and the artistic elements of the musical. He is in charge of scenery, auditioning, and the proper functioning of the entire presentation.

The producer was also chosen by the interview system. He is in charge of all the off-stage elements of the musical, including the planning of tours, publicity, and other items such as playbills and tickets.

Mullen and Collins announced that applications for staff positions will be taken immediately. These posts include assistant director, assistant producer and business manager.

The 1960 WCHC Student Scholarship Fund Marathon, since last Thursday, has received pledges amounting to $2,595.54, and more pledges are coming in, chairman Anthony J. Bellanca, '60, announced this week.

Students already donated more than $600 in cash of the nearly 3,000 expected by the committee.

Freshman vocalist Steven L. Bashwiner won the talent contest, followed by the "Restrictions," a junior vocal group of J. Barry Bocklett, Louis M. Pannella and Carl J. LaScala. Freshman Thomas W. Noering won third place with an imitation of the popular comedian Shelley Berman.

Also entertaining at the show were the "Cross Chords"—Ronald J. Boruch, '63, William P. Berlinghoff, '61, Anton G. Lang, '61, and Thomas P. Whalen, '61. This group took first place for the last two years.

In Fenwick Auditorium the three Variety Show winners, the St. James Society and the "Cross Chords" entertained throughout the Marathon.

Frosh Singers, Smith Choir To Present Unique Program

On Sunday, March 13, at 8 p.m., in the Little Theater, Worcester Auditorium, the 50-voice Freshman Glee Club will combine in concert with the 70 voices of the Smith College Glee Club.

The program will consist in highly varied works, including a humorous piece written in 1790 for the Salem Singers, titled "Modern Music." The Glee Clubs have readied selections of religious, traditional and contemporary melodies. The highlight will be the six-part "Requiem" by Gabriel Faure.

Holy Cross saw red Saturday night, as Jackie Foley set a new single game scoring record with 55 points, leading the Crusaders to a 101-78 win over Colgate's Red Raiders. The varsity quintet completed the regular season with a 20-5 slate, best in four years for an HC team. The frosh avenged an earlier defeat in scraping past the Red Stags from Fairfield, 85-79.

With 5:35 showing on the clock, "The Shot" tied Tom Heinsohn's four-year-old mark of 51 points with a short jump shot. Seconds later, Jackie canned the record smashing jumper, and added a pair of free tosses before leaving the game with 5:12 left to play.

Jackie's performance was well-timed, for the Purple had considerable difficulty with the New Yorkers until very late in the game. Colgate was outshot by only two baskets from the floor, but suffered at the charity stripe by a 25-6 deficit. The two clubs tied a record of 74 goals, set here by these same rivals in 1950.

The early going was quite even, but Ken McClory started a 10-point outburst with 7:47 remaining in the initial period to give Holy Cross the lead they never lost. McClory, filling in for the injured Tim Shea, wound up behind Foley with 11 points, all in the first half.

Final Effort

After Foley spread the margin to 66-49 in the first minutes of the second half, Colgate made their final effort, closing to 80-67 before they finally yielded. Foley broke the scoring mark here and the subs took over.

The NIT-bound Purple waited till the 38-minute mark of their final regular season game to crack the elusive century barrier which escaped them by only four points in two other games. Al Attar, who had 10 points, sank a pair of free tosses to push HC across.

Revenge Win

In the opener, Tommy Palace, Bob Foley and Pete O'Connor sparked a last half drive to overcome Fairfield's 47-43 halftime lead. The frosh completed a 13-6 season, and avenged an earlier 73-68 loss to the same Stag outfit in their season opener.

A pair of set shots by Palace finally pushed the frosh to the front for good with 6:50 remaining. Palace's 30 markers gave him a total of 435 points for the season, and a 22.9 average.

O'Connor followed for HC with 20, while Foley counted 13 in the second half. Tony Capo and John Hennessey had 10 apiece.

Relaymen Second In IC4A's 2-Mile

by Mickey Magee

A second place finish in the IC4A Championships ended the two-mile relay team's big-time indoor competition for the season. With only the last meet of the indoor competition, the UConn Relays in two weeks, yet to be run, the HC quartet has proved itself deserving of national collegiate ratings.

After qualifying in an indoor heat, Dave Handron, HC's soph leadoff man, found himself on the starting line with the tops of college trackdom — Yale, Manhattan, Penn State, and eventual champ, Villanova. The Wildcats copped first in this race, and also took the team trophy with 27 points.

At the end of the first leg of the race, Handron was running in fourth place as he handed the baton to Pete Smith. Smith, running his usual fine race, recaptured first spot for the Crusaders, with Don Michalski next on the track.

Michalski's time of 1:56, two seconds slower than Smith, lost a fraction of the lead, and Jay Bowers took over five yards back.

Fighting the leaders at every turn, Bowers was able to get inches from first, but never regained the blue ribbon spot. Villanova picked off first place by a stride, and the Crusaders were "also-rans" by 00.2 on the clock.

Frosh Finish Fourth

Earlier, the frosh quartet of Tom Noering, Tom Hennessey, Jack O'Connor and Chuck Buchta placed fourth in the freshman medley relay. Each man had a different distance, ranging from a 220 to a mile. It was the first time that this team competed in such a race.

Senior Andy Simons failed to qualify for the finals in the mile.

HC Five Faces Bon's Saturday

by Don Magilligan

In the opening round of one of the strongest NIT tournaments in recent years, Holy Cross will meet St. Bonaventure at 2:15 p.m., this Saturday. Actually, the action gets under way tonight when Villanova faces Detroit and Providence clashes with Memphis St. The other half of the Saturday afternoon twin bill will see second seeded Utah State meet the Villanova-Detroit winner.

St. Bonaventure, boasting a 19-3 record this year, has won their last 16 straight since losing to Cincinnati, 96-56, in the Holiday Festival.

JV Lacrosse Squad Releases Schedule; R. O'Brien To Coach

The JV lacrosse team has been spending the past couple of weeks in preparation for the coming season, which opens late next month. The team has been practicing in the gym and down on the tennis courts, with the varsity.

There are about 30 members, almost all of whom are freshmen, who answered the original call for players and practice. Of these, only four have had previous experience. Fr. Reidy, the unofficial JV coach, says these four give the team a good nucleus to build around.

The team is also bolstered by the fact that Richie O'Brien, former quarterback on the football team, will assist in the coaching of the squad. O'Brien, a two-year veteran of lacrosse, is unable to play this year because of an injury incurred in the 8-0 Dayton football win.

When quizzed about the frosh, Richie said, "It appears to be the best group of boys I've seen in my four years up here." Fr. Reidy added, "Anyone who likes a good game can come out."

Schedule

April 30—at Dean Jr. College
May 7—at Deerfield Academy
May 11—at Andover Academy
May 14—at Nichols College

Dates are indefinite for a two-game series with Worcester Tech JV's.

Height Concession

St. Bonnie's will enjoy no height advantage and, if anything, will concede a few inches to the Crusaders. They concede nothing in their shooting, however, as is shown by the fact that in their recent encounter with St. Vincent's they hit on an unbelievable 71% of their shots.

The winner of the HC-Bonnie's game will meet another All-America pick, Tony Jackson, and the rest of the formidable Redmen from St. John's the following Tuesday evening. Jackson is joined by Ivan Kovac, a 5-10 guard and All-Met pick with Jackson, Mike Pedone, Leroy Ellis and Willie Hall.

Frosh Hoopsters Romp In 'Murals Games; B-III Rolls Past Champion In Overtime Tilt

In contrast to the previous couple of weeks, the intramurals, last week and this, were marked by games in which the outcome was little in doubt, save the Beaven III win over Champion.

In an overtime tilt, the Beaven forces called upon Ed Ellis, high scorer all season, to give them a lift past the frosh. Tied, 38-38, at the end of regulation time, the game was broken open by Ellis' eight overtime markers. Ellis led all scorers with 26 points, while diminutive Mike Doherty added 10. Bill Collins led Champion with 12 markers.

Wheeler IV defeated the boys from Off-Campus, 54-38. John O'Neil was high man for the winners as he hooped 13. Stu McMillan, of the losers, took game high honors with 14 points.

Frosh quarterbacks guided both O'Kane IV teams to victory. One squad topped Carlin I, 58-40. Ron Mattana pitched in 18 points in this contest. "Mousey" Keliher scored 14 tallies in the second half to lead C-I.

In the other contest, Larry McCarthy dropped in 17 points in leading the slaughter against Alumni II, 50-28. Dan Cosgrove added 13 to the O'Kane total. John Fanning was the high scorer for the sophs with a 9-point effort.

Fenwick East rolled all over Alumni III, 36-18, as Paul Sullivan scored 19. Gerry McGuirk dumped in 12.

Purple Pennings

by Paul Robbins, Sports Editor

Saturday afternoon, at 2:15, the Crusaders make their fourth appearance in the National Invitation Tournament. Their opposition is St. Bonaventure University, featuring the Stith brothers — Tom (the poor man's "Big O") and Sam (the team captain and only senior on the squad). Such a venture necessitated, in the author's mind, an interview with the Coach of the Crusaders, Roy Leenig . . .

Interview . . .

— Have you seen St. Bonnie's play this year?
— No.
— Are you planning anything new for Saturday?
— Well, our offense will have to be geared to meet their defensive tactics . . . we'll emphasize any player that's free or hot . . . Jackie's tough, so we'll naturally be looking for him.
— What about Jackie's performance last Saturday night?
— Jackie was fantastic! His shooting was great, but the boys deserve a lot of credit for the unselfish way they gave Jackie the ball and let him break the record . . . Jackie himself feels that way.

The Stiths . . . ???

— Getting back to the NIT, how about the Stith boys? Between them they're supposed to be averaging something like 53 points a game . . . Tom about 33, and Sam scores about 20 or 21.

— They're tough, and that's the long and short of it. Both are very good scorers. Sam, of course, is the captain, and he has every move in the book . . . he's a leaping kangaroo. He looks for his brother, and we'll be looking for that. Tom, too, has all the moves. He can shoot from anywhere . . . from the corners, he drives, he jumps, and he pivots. We'll try to discourage him, and maybe he'll let down . . . and the AP had the nerve to leave him off their All-American team . . . over the past 15-16 games he's outscoring Oscar Robinson . . . he's left-handed, of course . . .

— And what about the rest of the Bonnies?

— They have real good backcourt men. One is Sam, and the other, (Whitey) Martin. They're very quick. They like to double-team a man. The center, McCulley, even if he hadn't broken his leg, probably wouldn't be playing anyway. They've changed their offense completely since the Holiday Festival. They have a free-lance style of offense.

— What about that little speech of yours down at that Sports Night? Have you had any reprisals or comments?

— Believe it or not, not one person came up to say anything against it, but a lot came up to me to tell me they were glad I finally said something to straighten out the people. I hadn't intended to talk at all; I told them that I'd attend it but that I didn't want to talk . . . the papers carried what I said verbatim . . .

— And what do you think of our chances on Saturday?

— . . . Well, we could win by 15 . . . and we could lose by 15 . . .

Closing Note . . .

As a closing note, one can't forget that little (?) exhibition down at the Auditorium last Saturday night. Granted Jackie Foley IS "The Shot" and has it, this output tends to overshadow the all-around team effort that makes up the Crusaders' offense which will have to produce this weekend in New York. However, it is also exemplary of the potential of the Crusaders' next All-American . . . nuff said.

If the Crusaders are to go anywhere in the NIT, there are several things that have to be accomplished: (1) Ralph Brandt has to forsake the mood that gripped him in Saturday night's finale; (2) Jackie Foley will not be able to let down any in his offensive, rebounding, and defensive play; most important of all — the first; (3) Needless to say, the team will have to play its best; and (4) the students will have to give the team something to fight for and let it know that they are behind the squad.

This scribe has seen the Brown Indians play once this year and they can be beaten . . . I saw them lose by 40 points — to Cincinnati when Tom Stith was held to 16, while the "Big O" hit for 47. I'll be there Saturday to see them lose again . . . will you?

Brandt Blames Losses On "Exhaustion;" Slaps At HCAA Transportation Policy

by Pete Deckers

Four years ago, a young man left his home in Palo Alto, California, and traveled East to matriculate to Holy Cross. This new student was to become one of the most controversial basketball players in recent Holy Cross history. His name — Ralph Brandt.

Today, in his senior year on Mt. St. James, he is captain of an excellent Crusader basketball team, which on Saturday will begin a strong attempt to add the National Invitation Tournament crown to their impressive 20-5 record.

Ralph says, "Jerry West of West Virginia is probably the best all-around threat that I have seen, and that Utah is certainly the finest team I have ever played against."

In an unexpected verbal tirade, Ralph blamed recent lapses on "sheer exhaustion" resulting from "bush league athletic policies." "Garden jitters and low spirits did not exist, but long and tedious motor trips, and overcrowded buses" contributed to unnecessary losses. (Ed. note: The Crusaders were undefeated at home this year.)

He also stressed the team's inability to cope with strong defensive teams, like NYU and Providence, as a primary reason for their subsequent losses to these nationally ranked teams.

HC Primed, Ready

Regarding the upcoming game with St. Bonaventure, Ralph feels that "it will be a fast, free-shooting affair. The team that capitalizes the most on mistakes will be victorious. The Cross will be primed and ready for an all-out effort, but we'll have to jell like we did against Niagara if we are to contain the Bonnies."

NIT, — HERE

COMES HC!!!

Timmy Shea

John Connors

This year the Crusaders will be making their fourth appearance in the NIT. In order to merit that honor of appearing, the Purple had to knock off some fine competition, several while en route to an 11-game winning streak after their spirited, but vain, showing in the Dixie Classic over the Christmas holidays.

Highlight of the year's play has been the much-publicized play of 6'5" sophomore forward, Jackie "The Shot" Foley, and worthy of such publicity he is! The soph scoring sensation has tied, set, reset, and reset again and again the sophomore single game scoring record, in addition to the other records he has built. Some include most points in a single game by a Crusader (55 against Colgate), most field goals in a game (21 against Colgate), most points in a half (33 against Colgate), and most points in a season by a sophomore (555 in 23 games, breaking the previous record owned by Tommy Heinsohn, 444 set in 28 games).

"The Shot", however, is not the only player on the Crusaders worthy of note. Timmy Shea has boosted his average of a year ago (15.0) to 17.4, while distinguishing himself more as a defensive and all-around player this year. He missed two games because of leg injuries.

The other member of HC's famed junior backcourt duo is 6'1" George Blaney. The Jerseyite has once again assumed the position of team quarterback, while also hitting the nets at a 12.5 pace. Earlier in the season he was termed by Bob Cousy as the best defensive player in college circles that he's seen. He's the team's top man in assists, also.

Captain Ralph Brandt, although playing spurring ball, is still the team's leading rebounder. His present total of 307 is below the figures for the past two years, but Foley has picked off more than the no. 2 rebounder for the past couple of seasons. Ralph was also the team high scorer in the Rhode Island win, while providing the offensive spark, with his rebounding and shooting, in the second BC win. He's also no. 2 man in assists.

Al Attar has improved of late, and will probably open in the forward spot opposite Foley on Saturday, replacing the stuttering John Connors, who hasn't been the same since the NYU loss. Attar, though only 6'2", tied for high rebounder in the Colgate game with Brandt and Foley.

Although they have been relegated to reserve action, Spence Thompson, Ken McClory and Billy Canavan, among others, have helped to provide Coach Leenig with his strongest bench in several seasons. Dave Slattery, though no longer playing, won two games by himself, while Thompson pulled out the second Dartmouth game with a last-second basket.

These two, however, are only two of the players who have pulled games out of the fire in the waning moments. Kudos also have to be extended to Foley for his two foul shots in the last six seconds of the Yale game, Connors for his play in the first UConn win, Foley and Shea for their work in the first Dartmouth game, and Blaney for his play that provided the spark to the Fairfield win.

The Holy Cross Club of Springfield will present, on Wednesday, March 16, the first annual Monsignor George S. L. Connor Award to the varsity letter-winner voted the "Finest Teammate" by the letter-winners of the football team. Dr. Eddie Anderson will be one of the guest speakers.

In their three previous NIT appearances, the Crusaders have always been in at least the quarter finals. Twice they were seeded, in 1954 and 1955, and in 1952 they upset Seattle and Johnny and Eddie O'Brien in the opening round before bowing to Duquesne in the quarters. In 1954 they went all the way.

Of the twelve teams entered in this year's NIT, the Crusaders have never met only four of them on a basketball court. The four are Utah State, Dayton, Detroit, and Memphis State.

When the Crusaders tangle with St. Bonaventure on Saturday afternoon, it will mark the first meeting between these two clubs in 30 years. The teams have met in three previous games, with the Cross having won all three of them.

Holy Cross has met Bradley only once before—in the 1953 Sugar Bowl Tournament, the year that HC won the NIT (the Bowl tourney was held in December, 1953). HC won that game. The coach of that team, Bob Vanatta, is the present coach of another 1960 tournament club, Memphis State.

Jackie Foley's 55-point performance against Colgate last Saturday night broke three records, while extending a fourth. Extended was Foley's sophomore scoring record for a season . . . it now totals 555 points, an average of 24.1 a game. Broken were Tommy Heinsohn's single game mark for a Crusader (51), set against BC in his last regularly scheduled game as a senior; the mark owned by Togo Palazzi: most field goals in one game, the old mark was 19, it now stands at 21; and another standard jointly owned by Heinsohn and Palazzi: most points in a half, the old mark was 26, Foley upped that to 31.

After St. Patty's Day, the 'murals refs, commissioners, and Paul Robins, CRUSADER sports editor, will convene to pick two I-M All-Star squads.

"AN EMBARRASSMENT OF RICHES"

Twinkly, lovable old Dr. Wagstaff Sigafoos, head of chemistry at the Upper Rhode Island College of Science and Palmistry, cares naught for glory and wealth. All he cares about is to work in his laboratory, to play Mozart quartets with a few cronies, to smoke a good Marlboro, and to throw sticks for his faithful dog Trey to fetch.

So when, after years of patient research, Dr. Sigafoos discovered Reverso, a shaving cream which causes whiskers to grow inward instead of outward, thus enabling a man to bite off his beard instead of shaving it, it never even crossed his mind that he had come upon a key to fame and riches; he simply assigned all his royalties from Reverso to the college and went on with his quiet life of working in the laboratory, playing Mozart quartets, smoking good Marlboros and throwing sticks for his faithful dog Trey. (Trey, incidentally, had died some years earlier but habit is a strong thing and Dr. Sigafoos to this day continues to throw sticks.)

As everyone knows, Reverso turned out to be a madly successful shaving cream. Royalties in the first month amounted to $290,000, which came in mighty handy, believe you me, because the college had long been postponing some urgently needed repairs—a lightning rod for the men's dormitory, new hoops for the basketball court, leather patches for the chess team's elbows and a penwiper for the Director of Admissions.

Royalties in the first month amounted to $290,000.

In the second month royalties amounted to an even million dollars and the college bought Marlboro cigarettes for all students and faculty members. It is interesting that the college chose Marlboro cigarettes though they could well have afforded more expensive brands. The reason is simply this: you can pay more for a cigarette but you can't get a better flavor, a better smoke. If you think flavor went out when filters came in, try a Marlboro. The filter cigarette with the unfiltered taste. You, too, can smoke like a millionaire at a cost which does no violence to the slimmest of budgets. Marlboros come in soft pack or flip-top box and can be found at any tobacco counter. Millionaires can be found on yachts.

But I digress. We were speaking of the royalties from Reverso which continue to accrue at an astonishing rate—now in excess of one million dollars per week. The college is doing all it can to spend the money; the student-faculty ratio which used to be thirty students to one teacher is now thirty teachers to one student; the Gulf Stream has been purchased for the Department of Marine Biology; the Dean of Women has been gold-plated.

But money does not buy happiness, especially in the college world. Poverty and ivy—that is the academic life—not power and pelf. The Upper Rhode Island College of Science and Palmistry is frankly embarrassed by all this wealth, but I am pleased to report that the trustees are not taking their calamity lying down. Last week they earmarked all royalties for a crash research program headed by Dr. Wagstaff Sigafoos to develop a whisker which is resistant to Reverso. Let us all join in wishing the old gentleman success.

The sponsors of this column can't offer you money but they can offer you fine smoking flavor—with or without filter. If you favor filters try a Marlboro. If non-filters are your pleasure pick a Philip Morris.

"We do not feel that the professional role of the teacher has been properly developed here at the College. It would seem that in such an institution as this there almost automatically ought to be any number of students at least requesting information pertaining to the field."

Yale Professor's Topic Includes 'Outer Space'

Henry Morgenau, Ph.D., the Eugene Higgins Professor of Physics and Natural Philosophy at Yale University, will address the student body on "Philosophy and Outer Space" in Kimball Auditorium on Tuesday, March 15, at 8 p.m. This is the sixth in a series of eight presentations sponsored by the Cross and Scroll Society.

Dr. Henry Morgenau

Dr. Morgenau, a native of Billefeld, Germany, received his Ph.D. from Yale in 1929. He joined the Yale faculty as an instructor in physics in 1928, and studied in Munich and Berlin during 1929-30. He was promoted to an assistant professorship at Yale when he returned to this country, and became a full professor in 1946.

The two important effects of science on mankind upon which Dr. Morgenau will dwell are the technological and philosophical. The latter, which in our society is greatly retarded and stultified, leads to a new philosophical understanding of the nature of man. Specific topics in this connection are "The Decay of the Philosophy of Materialism," and "The Problems of Determinism and Human Freedom."

Fr. Drinan Explains Options Available To Law Students

The Reverend Robert F. Drinan, S.J., addressed students interested in law Tuesday evening. The Law Club sponsored the talk by the Boston College law professor.

Father Drinan stressed the four options available on completion of undergraduate work: graduate business administration school; pursuing a course leading to a Ph.D. degree; social school work; and the position of Certified Public Accountant.

In reference to the Ph.D. degree Father Drinan stressed: "Catholics are vastly underrated in the secular field of education."

degree, broad fields of endeavor exists, especially in the field of business, private practice, and public life.

Father Drinan mentioned that there are 38,000 students in law schools. This is the same number as in 1920. From this we can infer that in from ten to twenty years this country will be faced with a shortage of lawyers.

He recommended that graduate work is a necessity and that those in doubt consult with advisors.

In conclusion, Father Drinan stated, "Don't get discouraged and don't get presumptuous."

Skin protection, that is. Old Spice refreshes and stimulates, guards against the loss of vital skin moisture. Feels great, too. Brisk, bracing, with that tangy Old Spice scent. It does seem to attract female admirers, but what red-blooded man needs protection against girls? 1.00 plus tax
